Training Details

In the training program, we will assign an expert trainer to your team who will guide you specifically on the projects. The trainer will provide guidance on how to approach the project, what steps to take, and where to start. They will assist you throughout your internship, ensuring you can complete the projects successfully. You will receive 1-3 weekly classes, each lasting one hour, and the project timing is completely flexible it's up to you how much time you dedicate to completing the project.

This training is integrated with your internship to ensure you are well-prepared, especially since many interns may not have prior experience working directly on live projects. The trainer will only guide you if you're unable to proceed with the work necessary to complete the projects.

Additionally, every Saturday or Sunday, you will have a project review where you will need to present and show your progress on the projects. Rest assured, we will fully support you in learning and applying your skills effectively throughout the internship.

Learning Material

As part of the internship you will get access to the learning platform after your acceptance of offer, in the platform you will be getting courses, materials, assignments, exams and many more.

About the work

Based on the internship program you selected, we'll assign tasks that align with your tech stack. Our goal is to include group projects in the program, aiming to foster a team-oriented environment and facilitate t he creation of new connections. We will share detailed work details prior to starting of your internship.

Refund Policy

Upon successful completion of the internship and exceptional per formance, this fee will be refunded as part of your stipend.

Acceptance

Accepting our offer is entirely up to you. Should you be interested in the program and decide to come aboard, you'll be welcomed into our dynamic team of developers. Other wise, you can simply drop the offer
